PASTURES
Joe Bell of 308 Highland Avenue in Enterprise has recently bought some land and is planning to start a beef cattle herd. He was in the office a few days ago for information on establishing Coastal Bermuda grass. We recommended that he try the improved Coastal Bermuda which is called Coast-Cross. This is an improved variety of Coastal. Late February is a good time to sprig Coastal Bermuda grass.

SOIL TESTING
Several commercial fertilizer and lime businesses in the county are paying the $1.00 per sample cost of soil samples that are sent to the laboratory at Auburn. For many folks this is a free service and hundreds of people in the county are taking advantage of this. Our peanut and corn and cotton committees of the County Extension Council recommended that we urge farmers to send in samples to the lab. I agree with this completely for this is one risk that we can eliminate. It seems sort of foolish to guess at fertilizer and lime needs when it is so easy to get laboratory analysis. We have supplies at our office and also in the agri-business firms in the county.

COMPOST PILE
Mrs. Gordon Cain who lives for a number of years in the Basin Community and now lives in Opp wrote me a few days ago about how to set up a compost pile out of leaves. She is having the same trouble with leaves that a lot of other people have. I looked up the information and sent it to her and some of you also might be interested in ways to use these leaves for fertilizer. To establish a compost pile, build out of boards or logs a pen to hold the leaves. A pen 2 feet wide, 5 feet long and about 3 feet deep will hold a lot of leaves. Use about a 12 inch layer of leaves, then an inch or two of soil or manure and then about 15 pounds of 5-8-8 fertilizer. Be sure to water thoroughly and keep wet. If you have questions, contact me and I will send you more detailed information.

say 2 pounds per 100 gallons of water, simply use 2 tablespoons wettable powder in one gallon of water.

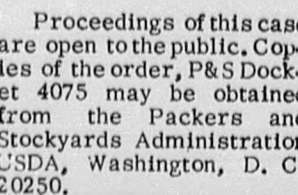

If the recommendations call for 2 pints per 100 gallons of water, mix 1 level teaspoonful of the insecticide into 1 gallon of water for each pint that is recommended. In other words, 1 tablespoonful of each pint that is recommended per 100 gallons of water for each gallon you wish to prepare.

REDUCE PROBLEMS
Burning dormant Coastal Bermuda grass at least four to six weeks before new growth is sprigged in the spring is good insurance against damage from diseases, insects and winter weeds. Burn all fields, Hub.

Livestock Dealer Is Suspended By USDA
D. C. Herndon, operator of the Samson Livestock Auction, Samson, has been suspended as a registered livestock dealer and marketer agency for violating bonding regulations under the Packers and Stockyards Act, the U. S. Department of Agriculture said. He operates in south-eastern Alabama.

Mr. Herndon suspended starting Dec. 30, 1968, until he complies fully with bonding regulations. Mr. Herndon was also ordered to cease and desist from doing business under the P&S Act without filling an acceptable bond. The order - like a permanent injunction - is used to insure future compliance with the Act. Mr. Herndon consented to the order in answering the administrative complaint issued by USDA's Packers and Stockyards Administration (P&SA). He waived oral hearing. He admitted USDA jurisdiction and neither admitted nor denied the other allegations. The P&S Act is a fair trade practice law. It promotes and maintains fair and open competition in the marketing of livestock, poultry and meat.

Senator Allen To Support Tax Relief

Senator Jim Allen announced he would take an active role in support of a bill that would double the income tax exemption from $600 to $1,200 for each individual.

Such a bill, Senator Allen said, has been reintroduced in the House of Representatives where the bill reaches the senate.

The effect of the bill, the senator said, can be illustrated, for example, by a family of four, who are presently entitled to a total exemption of $2,400, under the proposal supported by Senator Allen, a family of four could take up to an exemption of $4,800 from the gross income in computing their taxable income.

Forms W-2 have to be filed with income tax returns and those who have received all of them when they file their returns.

He is one of the finest young men we have ever known and we are especially proud of his success which he richly deserves. He worked hard for it. During his college years he worked after classes and made his college education on his own. He has earned everything he has accomplished. He is an example of what a young man can do if he is willing to put his shoulder to the wheel and work for it.

We wish for Alva Hugh continued success.

AT LAST FOOTBALL is over and Sunday afternoon will not be spent with the television being on football games. I think I have been told for a couple of months that football on television would soon be over, according to Mack. After a few weeks of that I gave up but Sunday afternoon was really the last game - I guess. I decided I would go visiting and get away from television football but everywhere I went it was the same story. I finally gave up and returned home and went to work. There were dozens of jobs that needed to be done and there are still plenty I could be doing. But every time I made a little noise, I decided that another place in law offices in Montgomery before going into service. After his discharge from service he returned to the University of Alabama to study law and was admitted to the bar. He accepted a place in law offices in Montgomery before accepting a legal position as the governor's secretary. A position he has filled continuously since that time.

SENATOR LISTER HILL has returned to his Montgomery home where he started his political career 46 years ago when he was elected U.S. representative and later senator from Alabama.

Lister Hill has always remembered his friends and has done the people of Alabama more favors than probably any other man in Congress of the United States. Not only has he been interested in the people of Alabama but for peoples of the nation as a whole. He became somewhat unpopular with some of the Alabama voters because they thought he was getting too liberal but Lister Hill realized that changes were being made and unless the South was willing to make the changes voluntarily it would be forced on them. He has never actually been what you would call a liberal unless you would say a person interested in peoples health and welfare was being liberal, unless you would say working to keep Maxwell Field in Alabama, keeping Huntsville as the big project it is today, sponsoring such programs as the Tennessee Valley Authority and Rural Electrification, authorizing the National Institute of Health and the Hill-Burton Act that became law, as well as education, all those and many other things that benefit people - if that is being liberal then I'm all for being liberal.

Lister Hill will go down in history as being one of the greatest United States Senators probably will go down in history as the greatest Senator to serve Alabama. During his entire 46 years in Congress he has been concerned with the problems of the people of his home state.

Lister Hill is now back in Alabama to make his home which is just another proof that his heart continues to be in Alabama. He says he has no definite plans for the future except to enjoy Alabama foods like trout greens and cornbread, fried chicken, and also enjoy seafood with emphasis on "Hot Secor oysters and Gulf Coast crab meat".

A gift he probably will treasure more than any is the one his colleagues presented to him - "the chair he occupied for 30 years in the upper house of the Capitol of the United States."

VOTERS IN ALABAMA are interested in the accomplishments of U. S. Senator James Allen who now is serving in the place vacated by Senator Lister Hill. He was seated on the important Rules Committee by defeating three incumbent Democrats who sought the vacancy. The state's new junior senator had a good floor manager in the Democratic caucus, Senator John Sparkman of Alabama, enabling Allen and Senator Birch Bayh of Indiana to defeat Senator Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut and Senator Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin in what they call the "primaries" and then the Alabama, Allen, won a runoff race over Bayh.

That is a good beginning for our Alabama Junior Senator. This newspaper has been an Alabama wishing James Allen good luck and that he will be able to return to Alabama four years from now with a lot of accomplishments to show the voters. James Allen does not have the same friendly personality as the retired Senator Lister Hill is blessed with but there is a possibility that he can serve the nation equally as well.

ALABAMA is celebrating its 150th anniversary this year and official word from the governor's office is that Brewer "entirely encourages and encourages the growing of beards to observe the sesquicentennial."

I agree with Governor Brewer. Let's think of some other way to observe the sesquicentennial."

THE 91ST CONGRESS has two ministers, both in the House and both are Baptist. One is U. S. Rep. John Buchanan of Alabama, a Republican and the other is U. S. Rep. Adam Clayton Powell of New York, a Democrat. We are told that you will probably never hear one bragging about the other. Buchanan strongly opposed seating the controversial Powell.

Not only has he been interested in the people of Alabama but for peoples of the nation as a whole. He became somewhat unpopular with some of the Alabama voters because they thought he was getting too liberal but Lister Hill realized that changes were being made and unless the South was willing to make the changes voluntarily it would be forced on them. He has never actually been what you would call a liberal unless you would say a person interested in peoples health and welfare was being liberal, unless you would say working to keep Maxwell Field in Alabama, keeping Huntsville as the big project it is today, sponsoring such programs as the Tennessee Valley Authority and Rural Electrification, authorizing the National Institute of Health and the Hill-Burton Act that became law, as well as education, all those and many other things that benefit people - if that is being liberal then I'm all for being liberal.

Lister Hill will go down in history as being one of the greatest United States Senators probably will go down in history as the greatest Senator to serve Alabama. During his entire 46 years in Congress he has been concerned with the problems of the people of his home state.

Lister Hill is now back in Alabama to make his home which is just another proof that his heart continues to be in Alabama. He says he has no definite plans for the future except to enjoy Alabama foods like trout greens and cornbread, fried chicken, and also enjoy seafood with emphasis on "Hot Secor oysters and Gulf Coast crab meat".

A gift he probably will treasure more than any is the one his colleagues presented to him - "the chair he occupied for 30 years in the upper house of the Capitol of the United States."

VOTERS IN ALABAMA are interested in the accomplishments of U. S. Senator James Allen who now is serving in the place vacated by Senator Lister Hill. He was seated on the important Rules Committee by defeating three incumbent Democrats who sought the vacancy. The state's new junior senator had a good floor manager in the Democratic caucus, Senator John Sparkman of Alabama, enabling Allen and Senator Birch Bayh of Indiana to defeat Senator Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut and Senator Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin in what they call the "primaries" and then the Alabama, Allen, won a runoff race over Bayh.

That is a good beginning for our Alabama Junior Senator. This newspaper has been an Alabama wishing James Allen good luck and that he will be able to return to Alabama four years from now with a lot of accomplishments to show the voters. James Allen does not have the same friendly personality as the retired Senator Lister Hill is blessed with but there is a possibility that he can serve the nation equally as well.

ALABAMA is celebrating its 150th anniversary this year and official word from the governor's office is that Brewer "entirely encourages and encourages the growing of beards to observe the sesquicentennial."

I agree with Governor Brewer. Let's think of some other way to observe the sesquicentennial."

THE 91ST CONGRESS has two ministers, both in the House and both are Baptist. One is U. S. Rep. John Buchanan of Alabama, a Republican and the other is U. S. Rep. Adam Clayton Powell of New York, a Democrat. We are told that you will probably never hear one bragging about the other. Buchanan strongly opposed seating the controversial Powell.

We need not give way to defeating thoughts such as it is too late to begin again, we are too old to learn new ways, or it is impossible to change old patterns of thought and living. We have heard it said again and again, but it is still true, vitally true, that always we stand at a point of newness, that always we can begin again. The present moment is the only moment that counts.

Chapter 13 Prevents Many Bankruptcies

Month by month, the Federal Bankruptcy Court in Birmingham is guiding nearly 6,000 debtors along a computerized path toward financial stability.

By agreeing to pay their bills through the court-directed wage earner's plan, thousands of Alabamians have avoided the black mark of bankruptcy.

Federal Bankruptcy Court Judge Herbert Maulitz, said his court adds about 4,000 new cases a year to the files of its computer. Because some individuals require up to three years to clear up debts, the workload averages about 6,000 cases.

The Birmingham debtors' court is the largest in the nation, administering about one-fifth of the country's wage earners' plans. Last year, the court collected and paid out more than $4.8 million on 65,000 claims. Administration costs amount to 5 per cent of an individual's payments, Maulitz noted, down from 8 per cent 20 years ago. In addition, the court handles all work involved, reducing fees paid court-appointed trustees who formerly handled collection and distribution duties.

"Thus, more money goes to creditors, not to pay rising court costs," he said.

Up-to-date records also permit the court to pay creditors monthly, by case and in priority order, satisfying creditors who otherwise might reclaim goods in lieu of payment.

Once the court accepts a debtor's case, it directs the individual to pay a scheduled amount each month.

Maulitz said the operation's efficiency frees court referees for individualized attention to each case. This intensive care, he said, has resulted in a 20 per cent rise — from 60 to 80 percent — in the number of individuals completing the program and paying their way out of the red.

"Chapter XIII isn't an easy way out for families with big debts," Maulitz said. "In most cases, it takes two or three years of disciplined, strict payment schedules."

"But when there is no other way, we offer a working man the chance to recover from financial misdeeds without losing his self respect," he said.

IT'S UP TO YOU Legal Notice

By Howard E. Kershner, J.D.D.

Rioting: What the Professors Bargained For

RIOTING, law breaking and obnoxious behavior on college campuses is a case of reaping what we have sown. A few years ago, during their formative years, these students were watching violence on the motion picture screen and on their television sets. In our schools they learned little of patriotism and of our national heroes. Probably most of them have heard Capitalism condemned and Marxism extolled in the classroom.

Mr. Stanton Evans, Editor of the INDIANAPOLIS STAR, has pointed out that attitude surveys in several of our leading colleges and universities indicate that "The net impact of a modern college education is to break down the student's belief in traditional values."

According to Fred Lowell, vice president of the Freshman class at Columbia University, the faculty was a major element in preventing crack-down on the student revolutionaries. The overwhelming majority of law-abiding students at Columbia who opposed the SDS and its rioters, were largely ignored by the faculty while it supported SDS and "chartered many SDS collaborators in its ranks."

Prof. Jeffery Kaplow, as quoted by Vermont Reporter in the WALL STREET JOURNAL said he did not condemn "the taking of the buildings" and thought it "a silly ploy" for others to do so. Royce, also points out that Prof. E. Allen Farrow, a professor of law, no less, stated that he could not align himself with "the so-called law and order side of the issue."

Prof. F. W. Dupe, according to Royce, saw in the uprising "a passion for justice and truth."

Capitalism and free enterprise have been criticized so much in our universities that one wonders why we still have a large majority of students who believe in them and who condemn collectivism in general and Marxism in particular.

Howard Kershner's Commentaries, Dismissal of the CHURCHMAN PRISON FOUNDATION, 328 West 6th Street, San Anselmo, California 94060

The two parcels of land described hereinabove contain, in the aggregate, 93 acres, more or less, and are situated in Coffee County, Alabama.

Said sale is being made for a division of the proceeds of said sale amongst the joint owners and tenants thereof.

January 31 is Farmers Social Security Deadline

Farmers have until January 31 to file reports on the Social Security taxes withheld from their employees' wages. W. T. Copping, District Director of Internal Revenue for Alabama said.

The reports should be filed on Form 943, Employer's Annual Tax Return for Agricultural Employees.

Mr. Copping said that any farmer who pays an employee cash wages of $150 or more a year must withhold Social Security taxes. Taxes must also be withheld on wages under $150 for any person hired 20 days or more a year.

Local farmers have this subject fresh on their minds as many of them have appeared before the internal revenue examiners in recent months to prove that they have paid the proper amount of Social Security during past years.

MEDICARE COST REMAIN SAME

The monthly premium older people pay for the voluntary medical insurance part of Medicare will remain at the present $4 through June 1970, Harry N. Scott, social security district manager, noted.

The premium covers half the cost of protection that helps pay doctor's and surgeons' bills and a variety of other health care expenses. The other half is paid out of Federal general revenues. Of the population aged 65 and over, 85 percent are not enrolled in the supplementary medical insurance program. This is because they were not enrolled when the Medicare program began on July 1, 1966.

A new enrollment period opened January 1, Scott said, and will provide another chance for people who missed out earlier to sign up for the protection. For some — those who were born October 1, 1901, or earlier, and those who were enrolled but dropped out before January 1, 1967 — yet signed up for the supplementary doctor bill insurance will be receiving application blanks in the mail soon. If they have any questions about how to fill them out or about Medicare itself, if they do not receive a form, the people in the social security office will be glad to help them.

sign up will not be able to get the coverage at all. He estimated that the period between now and March 31 will be the last chance to enroll for about two out of three persons 65 and over who are not yet enrolled for the supplementary protection.

Many of the elderly people in this area who have not yet signed up for the supplementary doctor bill insurance will be receiving application blanks in the mail soon. If they have any questions about how to fill them out or about Medicare itself, if they do not receive a form, the people in the social security office will be glad to help them.
